MARTIN BROOK.

The purchase of the Martin Brook by the city, which has been so long under discussion, is now practically settled.
Dr. Gale of Rutland, who owned the land, has been here for several days looking over the survey made by City Engineer Carrier and he finally decided to sell the property which the City Council voted to buy some time ago, the price to be fixed at $700. Dr. Gale to retain possession of all standing timber above 10 inches in diameter, and he has ten years to clear it off. The plan of the city is to build a reservoir near the northerly corner of the land. The deed has not yet been signed but is being made out at Mayor Goodwin's office to-

Senator Cameron Speaks.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 16.—There was much brilliant oratory and exciting scenes in the Senate yesterday. A debate public interest today. This is the fourth day of debate on the war resolution.
There are very radical differences thus far for the advisability of recognizing

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 16.—Senator Allen called attention to the remarkable scene in the White House, April 7, when representatives of the so-called European powers called the President to exchange notes in the Hispanic American situation. He protested against this entering the White House to tell this country what it should do. I cannot understand why the President does not inform them that this country will not tolerate this interference. It is the first step towards breaking down the Munroe doctrine.

Teller introduced a substitute for the pending motion, recognizing the Repubdiate armed intervention unless Spain sighted in the British Channel.

The Brewster Trial.

MONTPELIER, Apr. 15.—The witnesses for the defense in the Brewster trial were examined this morning. The testimony tends to prove the irresponsibility of the respondent. A. N. Blanchard a photographer in Montpelier took a photograph of the respondent April 21, '97. He told of her queer actions.
Miss Jennie Quinn of Montpelier thought her queer and stubborn.

HIGH SCHOOL EXHIBITION.

The Senior Exhibition given by the class of '98 of the Spaulding High School was held last evening in the school chapel. On account of the inclement weather which prevailed at the time of the exercises, a good many were kept away. The essays, as a whole, were very good and received the applause of the audience.

Potted plants were set along the edge of the platform, which added very attractively to the appearance of the room. After a prayer by Rev. Dr. S. N.
Jackson, a vocal solo was rendered by Miss Susie Cummings, entitled, "There little girl don't cry." Miss Jennie A.
Holden followed with an essay "Robin Hood." It was well rendered and received great applause, as did also Miss Gladys E. Beckley's essay on "Comus." The essay on "Edgar Allen Poe" by Miss Maud M. Whitcomb was also well rendered. Luther D. Beckley, a group of Americans Historians" was very interesting. His short sketches of Prescott, Bancroft, Motley, Fisk and others were well written. Miss Holden followed with a piano solo, "The Floating song." Miss Bradford gave an essay on "The visions of Sir Launfal" in a very pleasing manner and received loud applause. The essays on "Julius Caesar" by Miss Gertrude A. Kenerson, "Ralph Waldo Emerson" by Miss Emma E. Noyes and the "Home of Seven Gra-bles" by Miss Paul E. Lewis were all well written. Miss Beckley rendered a vocal solo in a very pleasing manner.
She has a very sweet voice and her recitation was loudly applauded.

Character sketch of Macbeth and Lady Macbeth, by Helen M. Brown, received loud applause. Her delivery was good and the essay was well composed.

Clarence Worthen's essay "Butler's Raiders" was well rendered and well written and he put a good deal of life into it. The program was concluded with an essay "The Jew of Malta" by Miss Maria Hunter.

GRANITE CUTTERS' ATTENTION.

A full meeting of Granite Branch G. C.
N. E. is requested on Monday evening to vote on Albany Proposition. Meeting at 7 o'clock sharp.

E. LEMMON, Secretary.
JOHN J. MCKENZIE, President.

Character in Footgear.

"Shoes," said the aggressive philosopher to the meek looking woman, "always acquire the traits of their wearer. The old proverb about 'what you spend as you go,' etc., is only a truth put of what a very shoe can tell of its owner's disposition. Now look at mine.
Like me, don't they?"

They were, stubby, square, thick self-enclosed looking boots, they seemed to breathe aggressiveness from every seam.

"Now let's see yours." The demure looking woman poked one shoe out timidly. It was long and narrow, with a very pointed toe. It was a stiff, slim, unbending sort of shoe. The reader of character in footgear looked dubious.
"Hem! Perhaps you are not like your shoe," he said evasively. "But I believe in the science, and so I don't think it would be safe for me to tell you what I read in the indications. We—we might both regret it. Good morning!"

—New York Commercial Advertiser.
